

To whom it May Concern:

Please accept this note as a letter of recommendation for Ian Van Temperley, my fight coordinator on my most recent television series, "Galavant".

Galavant was my first ever foray into anything involving swordplay and fight/stunt coordination, and I was extremely reliant on Ian's expertise. Despite the fact that the show is ostensibly a "comedy" our fight sequences hold their own against much more serious/dramatic fare, and that's largely because of Ian. He not only was creative and ambitious as he helped choreograph our fights, but also made our young lead actor feel extremely confident and well taken care of.

I could not recommend Ian more highly... we even put him in a musical number we enjoyed his work so much!

Best,

Dan Fogelman

Writer/Creator of Galavant. Last Vegas. Monsters University & Tangled.